

ITALY

By Donovan

HISTORY

- Italy had a time known as the Renaissance which produced some of the most famous artists who ever lived such as Leonardo di Vinci who is mostly known as the painter of the Mona Lisa. Earlier the Romans and later Mussolini and World War II.

Self portrait of Leonardo di Vinci as an old man

POLITICS

- Italy is divided into about 20 areas lead by presidents and the supreme executive known as the prime minister and the the government is made of 2 sections the first is the house of deputies which has 630 members and the second is the senate which has 315 members, both have equal power. The highest court is called the constitutional court.

Matteo Renzi Italy's prime minister

ECONOMY

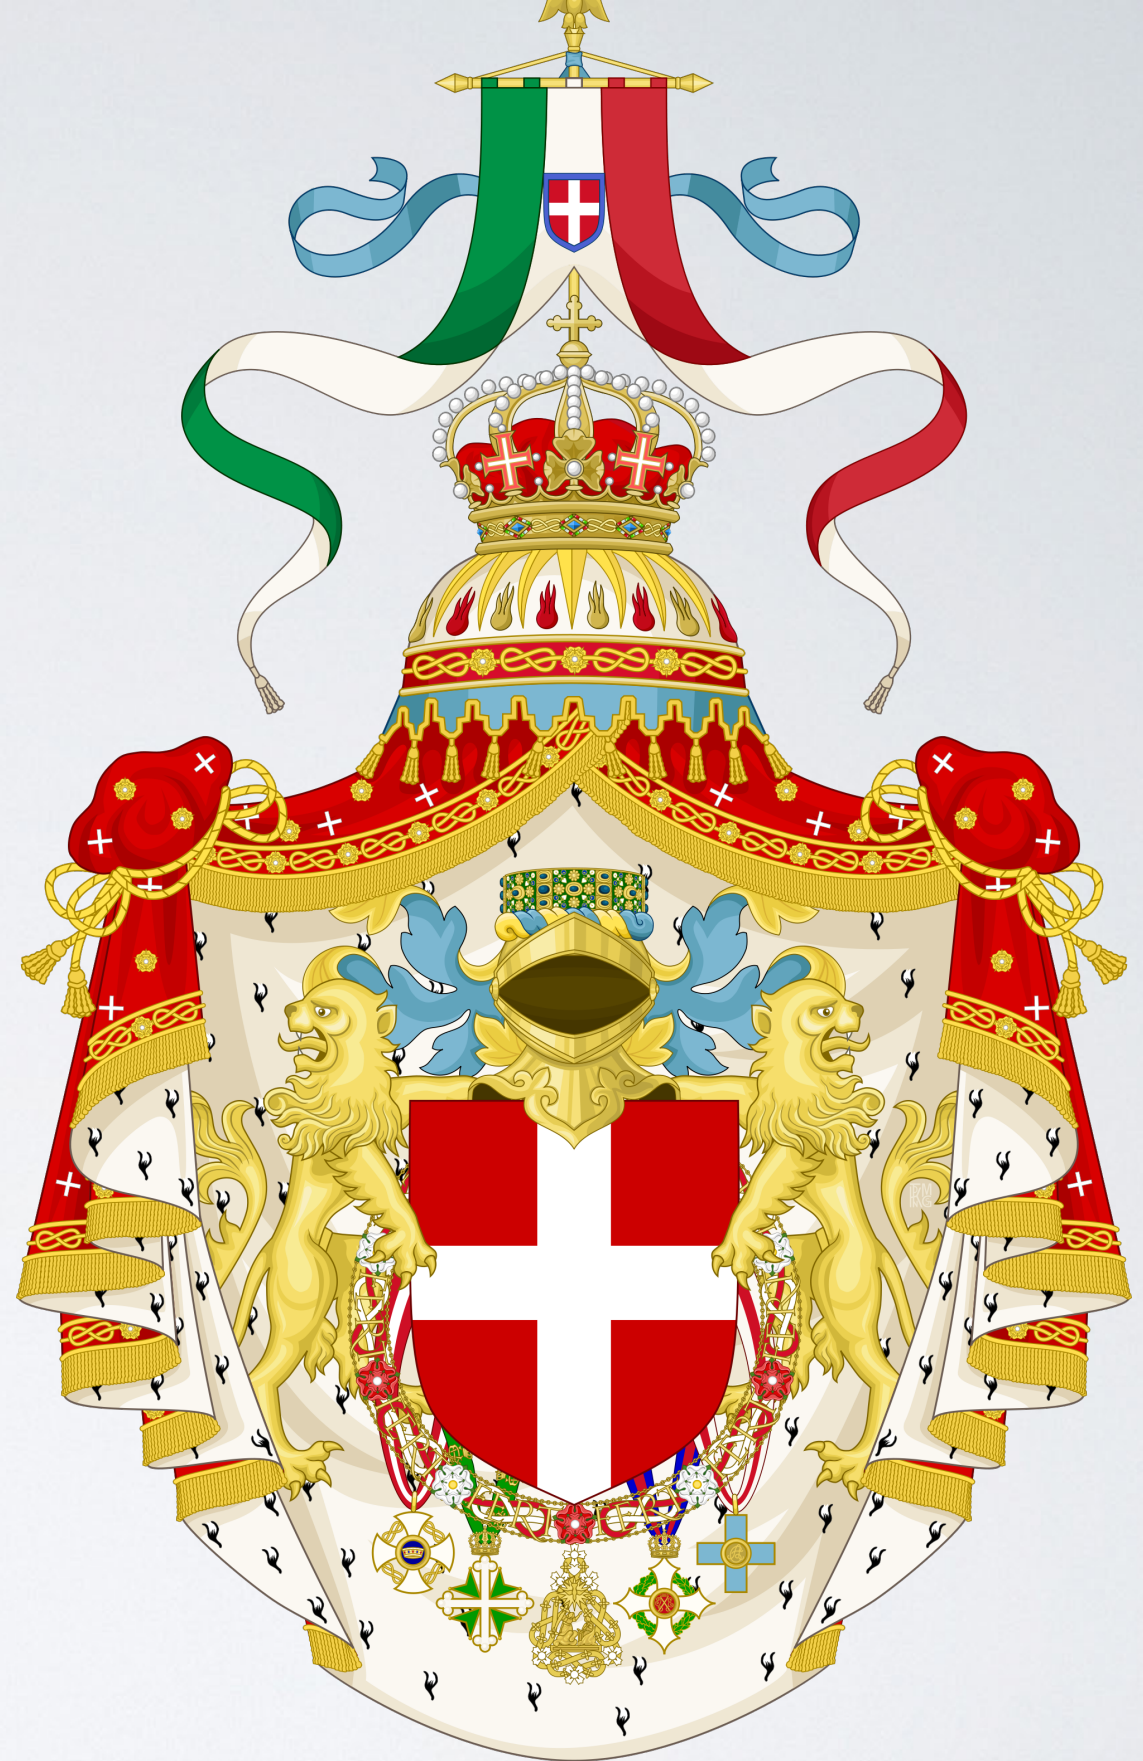

- Much of Italy's revenue comes from tourists, wines, automobile manufacturing, airlines and Italy has made considerably more money after joining the European Union - a group of countries that help each other.

Inside the Ferrari factory, one of Italy's main car companies

Italy's coat of arms

Italy's emblem

Fun fact: in Italy the average life expectancy is 77 years for males and 85 years for females

The end !

Map of Italy