Land

In Italy we are two groups of mountains the Alps and the the Apennines.
All of the Alps form on the northern border of Italy.
The Apennines all most stretch from the north to the south of Italy.
There are lots of valleys and planes in a part of Italy called Sicily, and people live in the valleys.

Low rate apartment buildings

Most people in Italy live in apartment buildings some live in single family homes.

Some people live with their parents Intel married.The grandparents often help the children .

Italians like bid meals with many courses or plates.The first dish is usually pasta or salad,the second dish is the main course and they would have fish or meat. They have fruit for dessert and wine with the meal.

Soccer or football as they call it, is a very popular sport and in the weekends the fields are full of soccer teams.
